After: Xerox and Elixir collaborate to offer an end-to-end solution, exceeding customer expectations by reducing the printing cycle by four days and resulting in a 35% cost savings on delivery. The solution handles multiple data formats and allows pre-sorting and splitting of data files. Variable Arabic data handling, dynamic selection of Full or Highlight colour output, fast processing speeds and post-processing envelope sorting and grouping differentiates the solution from competitors.

The Application

An International
Bank

- Elixir has designed a new layout of the bank statements expressing compound customer information in one statement. The new layout is composed using Elixir software specifically tailored to the needs of Middle Eastern market. It provides support for Arabic variable data yet is font independent, making it very beneficial for designers of bank statements.
